

CELEBRATING CENTENARIANS

Catching up with ...

Will, 104, & Lois, 101, Clark

Celebrating 75 years together!

We're catching up with the Clarks, one year later. Featured last July, Will and Lois Clark celebrated their 75th wedding anniversary a few months ago, but, as they discovered, it was not without its challenges.

A "freak accident," as Dr. Clark described it, threatened to scuttle this long awaited event. They had already celebrated their 104th and 101st birthdays, respectively, but to this devoted couple their milestone anniversary had even greater significance.

Through a combination of courage, persistence and determination to do what was right for them, seek appropriate help as needed, and with the assistance and support of their devoted family, Will and Lois did achieve their goal.
